THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

EUROPEAN CORRESPONDENCE.

BERNE, SWITZERLAND, Aug. 19, 1867.

Messrs. Editors:—From the centre of this muscular heart of Europe, after tracing its mountain walls and rivers, trenches quite around its borders, and after surveying its hardy and independent people in their chief cities, the thoughtful traveller may get the clue to the past history and present power of the Swiss people.

THE DEFENCES OF SWITZERLAND.

The Alpine range, with its spurs, and the valleys of the Rhine and Rhone, are the natural walls and trenches making all Switzerland one great fortress. The most interesting peaks of the Alps, ranging a little northeast from the Mediterranean, between the south of France and Switzerland, and the north of Italy, are Mt. Cenis, Mt. Blanc, Mt. Rosa, and the Bernese Alps. Mt. Blanc, south of Geneva, is the monarch of all—seen in his solitary grandeur for hundreds of miles in every direction at openings in the mountains—while the Bernese range, south of Berne, are the largest stretch of snow clad peaks taken into one view. The main passes are the Mt. Cenis, near Chamberry, France, over which Hannibal passed with his army to invade Rome, and through which Pompey afterwards constructed a military road; the St. Bernard, south of Geneva, over which Napoleon led his army into Italy; the Simplon, south of the central part of Switzerland, and the St. Gothard and the Splugen, yet further east.—This range is an almost impassable barrier between Italy on the south, and Austria on the east, while the Jura range on the west is a fortress wall over against France.

As the traveller, having spent the whole day in crossing from the south of the Alps over the Simplon road, descended in the evening to Brieg, the first town reached in the valley on the north, he has pointed out to him, on the northeast of the town, the glacier of Rhone, out of which flows the stream which passes westward along the south of Switzerland, enters and passes the Lake of Geneva, and goes out at the foot of the Jura into Southern France. On the northern side of that same park, from whose southern slope the Rhone flows, the Rhine takes its rise; these two most interesting rivers commencing their course from opposite sides of the same mountain, and traversing the whole extent of Western Europe, the one to empty itself into the Northern Ocean, the other into the Mediterranean.—Passing eastward, then northward, then westward, traversing several lakes, the Rhine comes out at Basle, the extreme northwestern town of Switzerland, making, with the Rhone and the Jura range, a complete elliptical line of circumvallation for the country which it guards.

At only one point in the line is this defence broken. Between the foot of the Jura ranges at the South and Mount Blanc there is an unprotected opening into the mountains. At every other pass south and east the Swiss have pushed their fortresses over the ridges, and hold the outer slope of the mountains. Here, south of Geneva, France has pushed her way into a bosom south of the Lake of Geneva, and holds the region called Savoy. A pleasing reminiscence of our day's ride from Martigny was to pass the line of stones marking the eastern and southern boundaries of French conquest, and riding into the town of Chamouni the same day, to find it the occasion of a grand fete in memory of the birthday of their present Emperor, Napoleon III.

THE INDUSTRIAL CHARACTER OF THE FRENCH PEOPLE.

As the traveller first sees the Swiss women in the fields holding the plough, swinging the scythe, and bearing huge baskets of vegetables and bundles of hay homeward on their shoulders, he is disposed to condemn this apparent degradation of the sex. When, however, the men are seen busy in quarrying rock, toiling at every variety of mechanical trade, and especially thronging the frontiers with muskets in their hands, he is ready to admit that woman's lot, though toilsome, is yet the one of pleasantness, as well as of peace. A Swiss woman can hardly be seen walking out without her spindle or knitting actively employed in her hands. While the younger women swing the scythe, the little girls spread the newly mown grass and tend the babies laid on the ground under some shade; while an old woman may be seen pulling the rake, and a little child walking behind to carry her walking stick.

Agriculturally, Switzerland is like the Valley of Virginia. Being, however, an older country, its people are more like those of New England in their devotion to mechanical pursuits. They seem like the people of those States in their intellectual and religious history.

THE POLITICAL PECULIARITIES OF SWITZERLAND.

The people of Switzerland are German and French in origin and language, and in their civil organization retain the united ideas of independence and of loyalty spoken of by Tacitus, the Roman historian, in his notices. People thus situated, will, in exposed mountain regions, combine under military chieftains, to whom they become perfectly subject, and cheerful in that subjection, while the same spirit in a commercial city will lead to a republican representative municipal organization. Switzerland is a confederation of twenty-two cantons, or small sovereign States, united for the settlement of mutual difficulties, and for common foreign protection, on much the same footing as the original American Union. In fact, frequent allusions to the Swiss Confederation were made in the debates of the American Congress which fixed the form of our constitutional Federal Government.

THE RELIGIOUS CONDITION OF SWITZERLAND.

Wherever any form of religious belief is found prevailing among a people it shows a religious sentiment; and when a people are found divided up into various religious sects it only proves more conclusively that religion is universal, since when men are free to have no religion, they cannot cast off conviction of the existence of a Divine Being and of duty to Him; besides, all men see that if they personally may live without established faith, no safety in society can be hoped, no individual happiness and civil prosperity can be attained, unless the mass of any community have a religious belief, and are united in some religious organization.

In Geneva—more, perhaps, than in any other city of Europe—the American system as to religious institutions prevails. The Established Church of Geneva is very nearly like the Unitarian of our country in its religious caste, and very able sermons may be heard every Sabbath at the Cathedral of St. Peter's, reminding an intelligent hearer of Dr. Bellows, or rather of Dr. Dewey.—The Catholic churches are well filled; they have Sabbath schools and preaching regularly in the French or prevailing language; and many from foreign countries, even from England and America, are found not only to become attendants on its services, but partakers of its communion. Besides these Churches, the views of Calvin are represented by able preachers and professors in a theological seminary. Among the celebrated, Dr. Merle d'Aubigne is eminent. In every respect Switzerland reminds the American of his own country.

New Features and Advantages Which are Known as Belonging to no Other Company in the United States.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THIS COMPANY IS upon the Mutual Benefit System—the accumulated profits going to the assured.

This company makes a special deposit with the Insurance Department of the State, for which Registered policies are issued if desired, countersigned by the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York, certifying that such policies are secured by pledge of public stocks.

No other Company gives the assured a guarantee of this character or anything equivalent.

Thirty days' of grace are allowed on all renewal premiums, and the policy remains valid and in full force during that time.

No restrictions as to travel or residence abroad at any season of the year, outside the tropics, which gives a nearly world-wide and unconditional policy.

No higher rate of premium charged for stationary Engineers, Conductors, Baggage Masters, Mail Agents, nor in consequence of change of employment after the policy is issued.

Notes are not required by this Company, but a loan may be obtained on the policy for one third of the annual premium, which is cancelled by the profits applied as dividends.

Joint policies, including man and wife, are issued by this Company, and the amount insured is payable to the survivor on the death of either.

Our dividend, January 1st, 1866, was 45 per cent.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1867.

THE UNIVERSITY.

We have heretofore advocated the reorganization of the University of North Carolina, and the adoption of a thorough University system. We believe this to be absolutely necessary, both in order to meet the educational demands of the times and as the chief means of uniting the people of the State warmly in its support.

It is almost hopeless to rely upon legislative aid to rebuild and sustain the fortunes of the University. The losses and misfortunes of the people, during the war, will be plead in bar, by some, for the next fifty years, against any appropriation for any institution of learning. We are almost afraid that it will be urged, for the next ten years, against attempting the resumption of the Common Schools. Indeed, it will be the burden of croakers for all time to come, and will be specially relied upon by them as an absolutely necessary reason for small taxes and ultimate repudiation.

The people of the State, and the friends of education, and especially of the University, all over the Union, must be appealed to, personally and urgently, for the means to establish it upon a basis too strong to be endangered hereafter, and too elevated in character, scholarship and adaptation to the wants of the people of the South, to be reached by other institutions.

It will require probably $250,000 to place it upon this foundation. And nothing short of a high mark must be aimed at by the Trustees, in order to arouse and concentrate the public confidence and favor upon it, as the Institution of the State and the South. The amount, these times, appears large—almost impossible, it will be said, to be obtained. We believe otherwise. Indeed, if something grand and superior, in all respects to the past, be not attempted, better sell the Institution at once, pay its debts and place the balance to the credit of the Common School fund. But it can be done, and will be done, if the Trustees adopt an elevated programme for its re-organization and future conduct, and employ the services of the right men to go out and beg the money.—It can be done (not in North Carolina alone,) in a few years, if the men and means are employed to do it. Every North Carolinian, whether found in New York, Massachusetts, or the great West, or in the South, as far as Texas, or beyond the mountains as far as California, will be glad to contribute his dollar, or $5, or $10, or $20, or $100, or $1,000, as he may be able, for the grandeur and glory of his native old North State.

We are glad that the Trustees took the initiative at their late meeting. The programme laid down, it is true, seemed rather timid, but the more the Committee appointed ponder and investigate the subject, the more enlarged will be their views and the more sanguine their hopes of success.

It struck us, as a capital error, to propose to close the collegiate operations of the University, next December, and to accept the resignations of the Faculty, to take effect at that time. Having commenced a collegiate year, it should be completed. The matriculation of a student, from custom, has become a sort of contract on the part of the Trustees, to continue at least for the collegiate year. The Senior class was looking to graduation, and the other three classes ought not to be subject to be thrown out of the regular College curriculum, should they determine to prosecute their regular course, elsewhere. We hope the matter will be carefully considered.

The true plan is, to take time to make all the arrangements,—the election of Professors, the system of instruction, &c., complete, in accordance with the new programme, so as to have everything in readiness to be announced at the next Commencement, and at once to be published in full, with the Professors' names and the general outline of the University, prices of board and tuition fees, in every leading newspaper in the South, preparatory to the opening of the University proper in August next. Such a course would insure, almost at the start, a number of students equal to that of the former days of prosperity of the old University. It is not by any means too late to adopt this scheme. More anon.

AN EXAMPLE WORTHY OF IMITATION.—We learn that a gentleman, residing in or near Fayetteville, a short time ago being convinced that the real value of his property exceeded his debts, and being unwilling to risk Court costs and lawyers' fees and a Sheriff's sale, very sensibly determined to settle with his creditors and save costs and interest. He gave notice to all of his creditors that, on a certain day, he would offer, at public auction, his entire property, and invited every creditor to attend, pledging that whatever his creditors chose to purchase should be entered as a credit on his debts due them. The day arrived, a large number attended, the bidding was spirited, and his property sold well. He paid off his debts and still had something left, with which to begin the world anew. This was a wise act and others might profit by it, instead of holding on, to be utterly crushed by interest and Court costs. Those who have lands to dispose of in this way should divide it in parcels small enough to meet the demand.

The prospect is, that gold will advance till some time in October, when cotton will come forward for shipment.—National Intelligencer.

A PREDICTION.—Twelve months from to-day gold will be quoted at 200.—Charlottesville Chronicle.

A WORD TO NORTH CAROLINA FARMERS.

No class of the community occupies our thoughts more than our farmers and planters. Their condition and success determine the prosperity and successes of all other vocations. The farming interest is the great interest of the State. If our people ever pay their debts, recover their heavy losses and become rich, it must be dug out of the soil. Our gold, iron, copper and coal mines, our turpentine resources and our manufacturing enterprises, can do something towards it, but they must ever be secondary and subsidiary to the great farming interest.

Two years experience will or ought to satisfy our farmers, that the employment of large numbers of hired laboring men, whose wives and children are to do nothing, and yet are to be fed and clothed out of the labors of the men, on large farms, is not the way to pay debts or make money. The size of the farms renders it almost impossible for them to be well kept up; the fences, ditches and necessary provision for cattle, sheep and hogs, will not be well attended to wholly by hired laborers, who are only interested in the crop or the monthly wages.—Proper cultivation and regular manuring arrangements cannot or will not be carried on.

Besides, under the controlling impulse to make money for our present necessities, resort must be had to stimulating fertilizers to produce crops that will pay hired laborers and families and afford the owner proper remuneration, thus our lands must be seriously in danger of ultimate sterility and consequent decline in value.

We can see no remedy, no real protection to the present owners of the land, but a speedy change in the system of employing many hands on one large plantation. We believe it is far better to divide up the lands and place them in the hands of other operators, even if one is not disposed to sell.

It must be apparent to every land owner, who is in debt, that it will never do to expose large tracts of land to sale or allow them to go under the Sheriff's or Marshal's hammer. The scarcity of money will make all such sales ruinous. Besides, it will introduce among us rapacious land speculators, whose greed will not be satisfied at any small sacrifice of the land owner.

Small farms, well cultivated and cared for, must become the order of the day.—Large plantations must be divided and sold, or leased out to practical honest men, who will do right, and whose industry and skill will either enable them to pay for the lands, or return them to the owner improved by their management. Faithful men, who have been former slaves of land owners, may be found in some instances, who would do well in such cases, and who ought to be encouraged in their industry and honesty.

We beg that some of our intelligent planters will give us their views on this subject. We should like to know the opinion of our planters, as to the probable results of the next five years, on the present plan of large farms.

THE AMNESTY.

The National Intelligencer says that it is a little surprising to witness the crude suggestions and wild speculations indulged by the Radical press as to the past and future action of the President. They say that Congress has enacted a law by two-thirds' majority which provides that "No person shall be registered or vote by reason of Executive pardon or amnesty," and that the President, intending to nullify this provision by his proclamation, has rendered himself liable to impeachment! We have seen it suggested, in no quarter friendly to the Administration, that the President intends to interfere, directly or indirectly, in the miserable farce of "registration" now going on at the South. His proclamation, in effect, puts all whom it embraces upon an equal footing with other citizens of the United States—that is its legal effect, he believes—and if this be so, and the unconstitutional provision quoted is thereby nullified, it only shows his opponents to admit virtually, that not only it, but all other legislation of Congress setting at naught the constitutional powers of the Executive, were null and void from the beginning. The proclamation may have the effect, and doubtless will, of bringing the question of the constitutionality of the main features of what are called the reconstruction laws before the legal tribunals of the country. It places the great mass of the Southern people in an attitude to assert and maintain their rights and privileges, and if, when finally passed upon by the Supreme Court, obstructions are still interposed by unauthorized agencies, military or other revolutionary, it will again be become the duty of the Executive to interfere and carry into effect, at every hazard, the mandate of the judicial authority. And this, the country may rely upon, will be done to the letter.

CONNECTICUT AND CALIFORNIA.—On Monday Governor English, of Connecticut, sent to Mr. Haight, the Governor elect of California, the following congratulation over the triumph of right principles in the late election in that State:

NEW HAVEN, Conn., September 9.

Hon. Henry H. Haight, Governor elect of California, (San Francisco):

I congratulate you on your election. It will gladden the friends of constitutional liberty the country through.

JAMES E. ENGLISH.

To which, on the same day, Mr. Haight sent the following reply:

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., September 9.

To Governor J. E. English:

Thanks for your despatch. California has echoed the voice of Connecticut. You set us a glorious example—we have but followed where you led, in the sacred cause of constitutional liberty. H. H. HAIGHT.

It has already been stated that according to the constitution of Kentucky an election for Governor should be called to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Governor Helm for the first August succeeding his demise, until which election the Lieutenant Governor presides; but it is now stated that Judge Peters, the Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, has ordered an election for the 1st of October.

For the Sentinel.

THAT CONVENTION—ITS ORATORS.

The first oration was made by the Rev. G. W. Brodie, Pastor of the African Methodist Church, of Raleigh. He has been somewhat irreverently called a "molasses complexioned individual." It may be that this may sufficiently designate his color. He is rather darker than some molasses, and rather lighter than some. He was much honored by the Convention during his speech, and all the members were uncovered, and preserved an unusual silence. No one claimed the floor, and no one called him "a liar." This speech assumed, in many respects, the form of a prayer. In other respects it was more in the nature of an impeachment of Andy Johnson, and he seemed to think that Secretary Seward was not much better than the President. The information he gave with his eyes closed and hands raised might have been much needed. He solemnly informed, either the Convention, or a higher power, that "many are of opinion that he" (the President of the U. S.) "has proved recreant to the trust that has been reposed in him as Chief Magistrate of the United States," and continued, "We pray Thee, O God, to forgive this if he should repent; and grant that he may do so, and redeem himself, by showing to this nation and this people that he loves the government," (to-wit: Congress.) The orator peaches a little on Secretary Seward, by telling tales out of school. He gives the information, so much needed, that he "stands by the side of the President," and asserts boldly that his "influence is powerful," and that by Mr. Seward "the President is more or less controlled." "Oh, God!" adds the orator, "have mercy on such a man! So powerful and so able, and yet not the best for the people of the country." But the speaker is specially unctious on Congressional Reconstruction. "We ask, oh God, to remember the Congress of the United States. Bless the work they have already done, and grant that the Reconstruction Acts may prove a blessing to the country." He prays for the army and navy, and wants the Commanders of the different Districts to be "good men, and lovers of liberty"—and then comes the double tan-ta-ra: "And now, as the booming of cannon is no longer heard, and the glittering of the sword, and the whistling of the minie ball and the terrible rumbling and thunder of the terrible bomb, oh, grant that this land of ours, now being settled down in peace, may have a peace that surpasseth all understanding." The Reverend Brother must have been quizzing a little here. The allusion was a sly one to the precious peace that we are all now enjoying. The brother, after having fully informed whomsoever it concerned, of several other minor matters, closed with a sonorous "Amen"—which brought Brother Holden to his feet.

This brother is not exactly of the molasses stripe, but, notwithstanding, seemed to think he had much to do with the Convention.—He is a notable organizer—re-organizer, or dis-organizer, as the case may be. Organization was the word this time, and at it he went—hammer and tongs.

And the "Honorable David Heaton," (what made him honorable?) being elected temporary President, was duly "conducted to the Platform"—from which he made his little speech, the gist of which was that "our ancestors in Philadelphia incorporated in the immortal Declaration of Independence a sentiment that will live for age after age—"that all men are created equal;" which means, in modern loyal interpretation, that negroes are created equal to white Southern people, and a little more so. If the Honorable David Heaton intended to say that "our ancestors" meant that—or that they designed to announce as fundamental doctrine that negroes are created their equals, he would falsify well known history, and should, for lack of intelligence, write himself simply David Heaton, and sponge out the prefix. It may be that negroes are created equal with the best whites, for at our creation, Heaven knows, we are all "poor crittura." Did Mr. Heaton, whether honorable or not, ever see a new-born baby—either white or black? If he has, let him say what, in his honest opinion, it is "equal" to. We probably are created just about equal—and all, white and black, with considerably less intelligence and power, than infant poultry, starting into life with the shell on its new-born head. "Our ancestors," in their strange dogma, whatever they meant, would have been shocked at these modern hermaneutics.

It is great pity that the Honorable temporary President could discover nothing else "immortal" in that Declaration, except that an infant Solomon, cudjoe, and a born idiot—are all created equal. There used to be, in that brave Declaration, something else besides negro equality; some old fogy notions about taxation and representation—standing armies in times of peace, and quartering large bodies of armed troops among us—depriving us of trial by jury, &c. all of which is utterly obsolete; and was properly ignored by these precious equally created patriots. S.

PREPARING COTTON FOR MARKET.—In a recent issue of Messrs. Tannahil, McIlwaine & Co.'s Cotton Circular we find some excellent advice to planters on the subject of preparing the cotton crop for market. The value of this staple causes the manufacturer to look closely to the ginning, cleanliness and uniformity of the article, and for this reason high grades are always saleable. The picking and packing season is now close at hand, and the pecuniary interest of the planter should urge him to heed the following rules:

1st. The careful picking and assorting before ginning, and particularly to avoid sand and leaf. Nothing, except perhaps seed, is more objectionable to the spinner than sand.

2d. Great caution in ginning. Many crops are ruined by cutting the staple. Seedy cotton is not merchantable, and too much care cannot be used in keeping out motes and seed.

3d. Properly classifying the grades before baling. Not more than one quality should be put in the same bale under any circumstances. Mixed packed cotton, however sound, is regarded in all the markets of the world as unmerchantable, and is generally sold at 3 to 5 cents below the value of straight cotton. Damaged should invariably be packed separately, and carefully saved; it is worth something.

4th. Liberal use of bagging and rope is good economy, and pays the planter well. Bagging should cover the entire bale, but not doubled. Strips can be substituted when the cloth is too narrow to meet. This often saves picking, and prevents damage. Not less than six ropes should be put on each. Strong twine and good sewing is important, and too often neglected. As the cost of draying and storing, as well as often the freighting of a bale weighing 450 to 500 pounds, is the same as a lighter one, the planter can readily see the advantage in making his bales heavy—not less than 400 to 450 pounds should be packed in a bale—500 pounds preferred. The initials in full on each should be plainly marked by the owner before sending to depot.—Petersburg Index.

LOYALTY TO THE CONSTITUTION.

We published recently the President's proclamation of the 3d. instant, in which he refreshed the recollection of the people with the simple and noble obligations of loyalty to the Union, the Constitution, and the enforcement of the laws. We also published an order issued by him to the several heads of Departments, directing the distribution of the proclamation to all official persons under their respective supervision, and the preparation by each Executive Minister of appropriate instructions to all his subordinates to faithfully observe the requirements for an earnest and zealous support of the Constitution, and execution of all laws made in pursuance of it. Under this order the proper circular of instructions to all the officials of the Government is in preparation in each of the Departments.—That from the Law Department we published yesterday. It is believed that the circulars from each head of a Department will fully correspond with the earnest and impartial spirit of that of Mr. Binckley, in which the simple mention of truths already familiar to all the people of the Republic is in effect a solemn affirmance of the fundamental ground of all parties that have ever divided the masses of the people. It is affirming the right of private judgment, of political adhesion, and party association. That doctrine affirms the foundation stones of the platform of the Republican party, of the Democratic party, of the Whigs, and the Know Nothings—of everybody and every sect, saving only the secession disunionists and the Radical disunionists. It leaves all legitimate party divisions where they have ever placed themselves—on the Constitution; it justifies to the heart and mind of mankind the justice of the Union cause against the rebellion; and it covers, on its ancient and exalted plane of political faith, all distinctions, save one only—the distinction between the law abiding and the lawless. And what is that distinction? It is as old as the world; yea, it is as old as Heaven, and as eternal as God.

Let, therefore, all men who buy or sell, who plant or who build; all who have title deeds of estate, or who claim their wages due; all who owe, who pay, or who demand; all who make their wills or sign their names—in a word, all who know, (and who does not?) that without law none of these things exist, and without obedience there is no law—let all citizens mark the man who dissents from such sentiments. He is a revolutionist. His dissent convicts him of treachery, unless he advocates open war upon the law, which is treason; and therefore, in either sense, he is a traitor. He that abjures the Constitution of his country is not a partisan, but a rebel. If he claims the privilege to differ as a partisan, he flatly confesses that his party is in rebellion. Political parties affirm the law, and dispute for the best way to improve it. But a faction which scorns the sober language of constitutional loyalty is a party of sedition, an association of public enemies, a body of projectors of civil ruin; and if they are not discountenanced, the mistake of 1860-61 is the warning to the loyal people of the country.

Let the deplorable apathy of the people to the calls of the Constitution end entirely, since the beginning has so well come up from California, from Maine, and from Montana. The incomparable legal organism of our fathers, elastic in a manner provided in itself to meet all possible needs of a glorious progress, is alive, full, strong and irresistible. Its sworn preserver, protector, and defender has demonstrated recently that its vital blood leaps with his own, and the people respond with a shout from the extremes of the Republic. It is in the North, not in the South, that the Constitution is on trial. Freedom, after lavishing her blessing upon barbaric and lusensate negroes, has been trembling for long months on her pedestal in the North, as she stands, the patroness of white men. She has lifted her arm, and the spoiler cowers. Let him go down.—Nat. Intel.

IMPROVED EIGHT-FEET STATIONARY POWER.
FOR DRIVING COTTON GINS.
It is SIMPLE, STRONG and COMPACT, and can be easily put together. We sold a large number last season and the demand is constantly increasing.
The following letter from Col. Hood, of Surry County, speaks for itself:
* * * * * It is with much pleasure that I state, your Gin Horse Power bought last season proved an entire success.
I applied a 13 feet lever and 6 feet band wheel to a 45 saw Gin, and one pair of ordinary mules which I improved on considerably, and with slow gait of team gave sufficiency of speed; a capacity to gin about 4,000 per day.
The wear and tear in ginning 60 bales of cotton is not perceivable—do not think it could be estimated at 2 per cent. It was put up and geared by one of the best machinists in the State, who pronounced it superior to any patent he had seen; also, several gentlemen familiar by long use of gins, have examined it and decided to lay aside their old powers and order this pattern of you.
Yours, most respectfully,

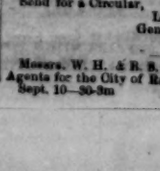
THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.
This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine


IS OFFERED TO THE
Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing
LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.
Until the invention of the Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,
Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.
BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER, which, being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.
The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.
The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; "a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."
THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.
It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause. You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.
You can effect insurance on your property
At Lower Rates,
if protected by the Extinguisher.
The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify. I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.
No House, Store, Factory, or Corporation is safe without them.
The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.

Charles James, colored, charged with stealing green corn from Henry Mordecai, was returned to the Superior Court.

Smith's slaughter house, in the city, on East Street, on the night of the 12th. Sept., were lodged in the Guard House and turned over to the military authorities for investigation.

REGISTRATION AT LAWS'.—Registration at Laws', on the second round, results:—Whites 29; Blacks 16. The whole number registered is 213.

WE WERE gratified, on Saturday, by a call from Major Engelhard, of the Wilmington Journal. The paper over which he ably presides is one of the very best in the country. Both the Editor and his excellent journal are always acceptable visitors to our sanctum.

WE SEE that our young friend, Thomas H. Bain, lately of this City, has gone into business with A. J. Allen, of Petersburg, in the manufacture of Domestic Candies, &c. Success to him; he is a worthy young man.

MATCH-GAME.—The second game of the series between the Crescent Club, of this City, and the University Club, of Chapel Hill, came off on the grounds of the former, on Saturday afternoon, and was witnessed by a large concourse of spectators.

The playing was spirited and resulted: Crescent 25; University 33.

MRS. FANNY DOWNING.—This gifted lady, whose recent letters to the Sentinel, from "the Springs," have been read with so much interest, and whose charming creations, generally, have given her so high and just a reputation, is at present in this City, on a visit to a friend.

SATURDAY is always a stirring day in Raleigh. It is the day for Auctions, and they are both regular and numerous. In anticipation of Sunday, there are two markets,—in the morning and in the afternoon,—and they are well supplied. The day brings an unusually large number of our country friends to town, the boys are all out of school, and the freedmen, now-a-days, seem to regard it as a prescriptive holyday. On last Saturday, particularly, what between the various causes above assigned, the races and the base-ball match, our streets presented a busy, bustling aspect.

—The Editor of the Wadesboro Argus, who attended Stanly Court last week, speaks in the following terms of the crops:

"On the main route of travel the corn crop generally looked bad; some few farmers will make perhaps half, while that of others will not pay the cutting (stalk and all) for fodder. In other parts of the country than that we passed through we learned that the crop prospects were more promising. The past season the yield of wheat and oats was unusually fine and abundant."

—DELEGATES NOMINATED.—We learn that a Convention of delegates from all the Loyal Leagues in the county, whites and blacks, was held on the suburbs of this town, on Tuesday, to elect candidates for the forthcoming State Constitutional Convention, and that Henry Chilson and George Tucker, whites, were selected as the candidates of the party. These nominations are not at all liked by "the party," and there is considerable bolting. Rich developments may be looked for in a short while.—Wadesboro Argus.

THE FIRST SHIPMENT OF OYSTERS—To the North this season, was made on Tuesday, the 10th inst., by Mr. Frank Pfeiffer, who on that day opened the season by shipping thirty one bags to Boston. He expresses himself satisfied that they will arrive in good order, and if the present weather will hold can continue to ship.—Norfolk Day Book, 13th.

STATE ITEMS.

—ST. JAMES' CHURCH YARD.—There is one venerable spot in this city with which is associated, perhaps more than any other, some of the oldest recollections and most lingering affections of our people. In the old church yard, immediately in the rear of St. James' Church, lie many of those who were the founders of some of the oldest families. The last vestige of their remains has, perhaps, mouldered into their primal earth, but the tombstones recording the names and ages and virtues of the deceased yet defy the touch of decay. Much of the olden history of our city and section lies buried there, and many of those who bore active parts in the stirring drama of the Revolution, sleep there the slumber into which they fell nearly one hundred years ago. Some of the tombs even date anterior to the period of the War of Independence, and if we recollect aright, one of them bears as old a date as 1750; one hundred and seventy years agone.

Among those of celebrity or distinguished ability who found there a last resting place, Cornelius Harnett, one of the most illustrious spirits of the Cape Fear, and one of the master minds of the first great war in North Carolina, will probably stand as first and greatest. He died in 1781, and his tombstone still bears upon its face his name and age, the date of his death, and a simple inscription. It is situated in the North east portion of the enclosure and near the wall.

The tomb of Thomas Godfrey, son of the inventor of the quadrant, of the same name, can also be found within this graveyard.—Young Godfrey was himself a man of no ordinary merit and ability, and was somewhat celebrated in the world of letters. He is known as the author of The Parthian, which was the first drama ever written and acted in America. He died quite young, and has ever since rested within the shadow of St. James' Church.

Many other names, well known and whose descendants still live and occupy high positions in this community, may be found upon the tombstones there. Some day we purpose to devote a few leisure hours to what we can find there, and will transcribe the result here. In the meantime, we advise those who are fond of passing an hour in looking up the memorials of the past, to devote a space to St. James' church yard.—Wil. Post.

—The S. C. F. (which being interpreted is rendered Sapient City Fathers) have fulminated the municipal thunder against fires. By edict we are to have no more in our village. Hanes, stay away; we don't want your Fire Extinguishers. An urban ukase is sufficient.—Henderson Index.

—A BIG DAY'S WORK.—By referring to our market report, it will be seen that 1,040 bbls. Spirits Turpentine were sold yesterday at 54@54½ cents per gallon, as per packages. By this means and for this article alone some $22,000 changed hands.—Wilmington Journal.

—THE FIRST NEW COTTON.—Two bales of new Cotton, the first of the season, were received here on Monday and sold yesterday. The Cotton was raised by Mr. W. W. Braddy, of Marion C. H., South Carolina, and was consigned here, one bale to Messrs. Northrop & Cumming, and the other to James Shackelford, Esq.

Messrs. Northrop & Cumming also received and sold last year the first bale of Cotton brought to this market that season, for which they gave then a handsome premium of a fine silver goblet to Mr. E. J. Moody, the producer.—Wil. Post.

—PROF. W. C. KERR.—We had the pleasure of meeting this gentleman in our town last Monday, on a professional tour to Transylvania county. He was in fine health and spirits, and during his short stay here, his mineralogical knowledge was brought into requisition by some of our citizens, who had supposed themselves the fortunate owners of large beds of Iron and other ores.—But, alas! appearances were deceptive, and the Professor was compelled to blast all their hopes of wealth, by informing them their rocks had "nary a red" in them, except in color.

Mr. Kerr is very willing to examine specimens of ore, but he cannot be expected to visit every man's farm for that purpose. If all who think they have any of the "precious metals" upon their farms will deposit specimens with his brother, Mr. S. G. Kerr, the Professor will take pleasure in examining them on his return, which will be in about three weeks.—Asheville News.

—The Charlotte News, speaking of Miss Alexander and her debut on the stage, says:

"Miss Alexander is a native of our city, but for some years preceding her removal to Baltimore had resided in Lincolnton. Her father, the late Wm. J. Alexander, was eminent as a lawyer, and for many years stood at the head of his profession in Western North Carolina. Miss Alexander has many friends in this section, and her native city will regard her new career with unfailing interest and with the confident expectation that her well known talents will insure her a brilliant success."

POLITICAL PROSPECTS IN SOUTH CAROLINA SATISFACTORY TO THE RADICALS.

Mr. W. J. Armstrong, who has been, for the past two weeks making a tour through South Carolina, under the auspices of the radical Congressional Executive Committee, has returned and reported such a condition of things appertaining to the radical prospects in that State as to make the minds of said Committee quite at ease.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Herald.

NEWS BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

THE PLOTTED RADICAL INSURRECTION IN MARYLAND.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.

The government has received intelligence that the Radicals in Maryland contemplate the inauguration of a scheme at the election on the 18th instant, when the new Convention is to be submitted for ratification, which will surely lead to riot and bloodshed.—Under the assumption that a colored man has as much right to vote in Maryland as he has in Virginia, the more desprate Radical leaders in the former State are urging the colored men to present themselves at the polls and demand the right to vote on the new Constitution. The so-called Border State Convention, which assembled in Baltimore to-day, evidently means mischief in that direction. Prominent Conservative citizens of the State have been here to-day, among them Ex-Governor Pratt, conferring with officials on the impending trouble. The State authorities feel confident of being able to preserve the peace, but it is not improbable that Governor Swann will have to call on the general government for aid to be furnished in the manner prescribed in the Constitution.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Herald.

Special Correspondence of the Herald.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13, 1867.

There never was a time when the national capitol was more full of startling rumors and when sensations were to be had more plentifully than at the present time. Every day there is some new excitement turning up which keeps newspaper men in a ferment and throws the public into the height of expectation and anxiety.

The fact is, there is a fierce political storm brewing. All the indications point that way and show that the strife between the President and Congress, which has been growing and increasing daily, must soon burst out into something more serious than mere wordy clashes, something worse than threats and vituperation.

On one side is a President unshaken in his convictions of his rights and duties as the Chief Executive of the nation, and determined to protect his prerogatives from the encroachments of those he calls the enemies of constitutional government and rational freedom. On the other is a Congress admitted by its leaders to be aiming at power and influence "outside the constitution," and apparently determined to brush away every obstacle to the success of their object, even to the length of impeaching and removing a constitutionally elected President. If these two contending powers are in earnest, there is, indeed, a dark prospect ahead; fresh trials and tribulations are in store for the nation, and there is abundant cause for the gloomy forebodings and apprehensions expressed by the conservative element of the country.

THE POPULAR REACTION AND NEGRO SUPREMACY.

The result of the late elections is regarded here as a certain indication of popular reaction. The President hails it as a sign of the reawakening of the masses, and confidently believes the people are at last beginning to realize the disastrous tendencies of radical legislation and the revolutionary aims of the radical leaders. The danger of negro supremacy in the South, he believes, is one cause of this sudden and startling reaction; but he considers that the "second sober thought" of the people has been brought to bear upon the whole course and aim of radicalism, and that the result is a conviction that if the radicalism is achieved constitutional government will be destroyed and a Puritanical despotism follow.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Herald, 12th.

DRY GOODS.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!!

NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS FOR 1867.

Old Prices Reached the City and Stopped at

A. CREECH'S,

R. SMITH'S CORNER,

Fayetteville Street.

I AM NOW RECEIVING MY FALL AND WINter Stock of

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

And I can say, with safety, that I have one among the largest and most complete stocks that has ever been brought to this City, either before or since the war,—embracing almost any and everything suitable for Ladies' and Gentlemen's wear.

CALICOES, 10, 12½, 15, and 18 cents per yard.

FRENCH MERINOS, 75 cts. to $1,25 per yard.

DELAINES, POPLINS, and a great variety of other Dress Goods, embracing all the new novelties of the season, and will be sold cheap enough to insure sales.

BROWN DOMESTICS, 12½, 15 and 20 cts. per yard.

BLEACHED DOMESTICS, 12½, 15, 20 and 25 cts. per yard, and all other goods in proportion.

Also, the largest and most varied stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SATINETS,
TWEEDS, AND KENTUCKY JEANS

I ever offered to the trade in this City, both as to price and quality.

Also a very fine assortment of White and Colored FLANNELS,

LADIES' CLOAKS,
BREAKFAST SHAWLS,
SQUARE AND LONG SHAWLS,

which will be sold at prices to suit my customers.

Ladies', Misses' and Children's TRIMMED AND UNTRIMMED HATS,—new styles, from 50 cents to $4,00 each.

Boots and Shoes, Boots and Shoes.

The largest and best stock I ever brought to the City, consisting, in part, of J. Miles & Sons' make, and others of equally high standing.

Ladies' Pegged Balmorals from $1 to $2.

Ladies Sewed Balmorals, from $1,40 to $3,50.

CREECH'S is the place to come to buy your Boots and Shoes.

Hats, Hats, Hats,

From 75 cts. to $4,00. Don't stop until you come to CREECH'S to buy your Hats. In fact, I think I can meet the expectations of all my customers and the public generally, both as to price and quality of ALL Goods.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are to "back again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say, whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have sold out my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I here take the privilege to say, I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

A. CREECH'S,

RAILROADS.

ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD

AND

NORTH CAROLINA

GRAND TRUNK RAILROAD,

From Charlotte and all Points on the N. Carolina and its Connecting Railroads, to the Seaboard at Newbern and Morehead City.

THE STATE OWNS THREE-FOURTHS OF the North Carolina Railroad and three-fourths of the ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD. This is the

STATE LINE,

To its OWN SEAPORTS and on its OWN ROADS. All other lines are in opposition.

A six per cent dividend on this line will save the people from taxation $750,000 per annum.

Under a resolution of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad, all Freights are to go via Goldsboro', unless otherwise specially directed by shippers.

When at Goldsboro', you are only sixty miles from the shipping point, instead of one hundred and sixty via Weldon, and eighty-six Wilmington. Our Steamers are equal to any other line, both for Freight and Travel. Time as short as by any other, and as cheap.

THIS is the Line

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling, and less Railroad transperiation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this line go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

GREAT THROUGH LINE

Route to all the Northern Markets, on equal terms and charges, via our own ports to and from the North.

Cars run through to all points without breaking bulk.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A Cheap Cotton Press.

FARMERS, BEFORE YOU BUY A PRESS OR build a Screw, enquire into the merits of the

GODWIN COTTON PRESS.

Hear what the following reliable gentlemen say:

I have seen Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press work at Mr. P. E. Smith's plantation, and it does all that he says it does in his advertisement, and more. I think it superior to any other mode of packing Cotton, and saves both time and labor.

W. R. SMITH.

I have used the above mentioned Press, and consider it the best I ever saw for packing Cotton.

THOS. J. VAUGHAN.

I have packed about 160 bales of Cotton with Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press, and take pleasure in recommending it to the farmers as a great labor-saving machine. It does not cost more than half as much as a Screw, and is worth twice as much.

It is so convenient, and takes fewer hands to do as much work as a Screw, I would pay the price of a Press, rather than allow a man to put up a screw on my place for nothing.

D. EDMONDSON.

I have used the above mentioned Cotton Press, and it does better than a Screw. Takes less hands, does not waste Cotton, and is much cheaper.

J. H. CURRY,
Sup't W. H. Smith's Plantation.

I have packed about 70 bales with Godwin's Cotton Press, and am certain it is the best, cheapest, most compact and durable Press in existence, costing only half, at first, and lasting twice as long as a screw.

PETER E. SMITH.

I have never seen the Cotton Press of Mr. Jno. H. Godwin at work, but have no doubt, from the certificates of the gentlemen above, that it performs all they say of it. I know them to be gentlemen of character and veracity, and that their statements are entitled to credit.

RICHARD H. SMITH.

The last name is one of our most honorable and respectable citizens, well known as a former member of the Legislature. I offer this PRESS as combining more advantages for packing than any now in use; it is adapted to large or small farms, and is so simple and cheap, that any good mechanic can build it. It is well adapted to

WATER-POWER.

It is 10 or 11 feet wide, 3 feet and 3 inches thick; top of frame above ground, 16 feet; highest point of Lever, 18 or 19 feet. The platform on which the bale is turned out, is 10 feet above ground.

Length of box, 10 feet in the clear.

Length of bale 5 feet, by 2 feet 4 inches. Weight 500 or 600 lbs. It is put up flat against the Lint Room, thereby preventing the scattering of the Cotton and need of baskets.

The Press is chiefly built of scantlings.

The Inventor has spared no pains in his experiments to make it practicable, convenient and cheap. I charge

$25 for a Single Right.

The total cost, including cover and everything, is about $150. Much of that, farmers are not in the habit of including as cost.

I think I can sell County rights at about $10 by the hundred.

THE SONGS OF OLD.

The songs of old! How deep a spell
Lies in the old familiar words!
Once sung by those we loved so well,
In other days, in happier years;
Voices of hope long passed away!
Come o'er the heart no lone and cold,
And Memory asks, where, where are they
Who sweetly sung the songs of old?

Where are they? Some in silence sleep
Beneath the mournful yew-tree's gloom,
Others, within the boundless deep,
Have early found an ocean tomb:
Dim are the eyes that brightly shone,
The once warm heart lies still and cold,
And hushed for aye, for ever gone
That voice that sung the songs of old.

Where are they? On some foreign land
For many a weary day they roam;
Cheerless they tread the stranger's land,
From friends afar, afar from home.
In they not long to join once more
The joyous dance, the social throng;
And mingle, as in days of yore,
Their voices in the olden song?

Fondly the heart still loves to linger
Amid the ruins of the past,
Tracing, with Fancy's fairy finger,
Visions too beautiful to last;
Bringing to memory's eye again
The long-lost friends, the cherished ones,
Waking the past with some sad strain,
Some wee-remembered old song.

EXCITING SCENE IN A NEW YORK COURT.—While the examination of Dan Noble, the prisoner in the Royal Insurance bond robbery case, was proceeding at the Tombs on Monday before Judge Hogan, a scene occurred which for several minutes created the greatest sensation. A Mrs. Gilchrist was on the witness stand, and was undergoing a cross-examination with regard to her former husband, John Keene, who the witness testified was dead. She said he was her second husband, and had just finished relating the circumstances of their marriage, and the subsequent death of her husband, when the counsel, glancing towards the door of an ante-room, called "John Keene!" and the man (or the ghost, if the witness told the truth) walked forth. The episode caused the witness to shrink back and almost faint. As soon as the excitement was over the examination went on, the witness testifying she had not seen her husband for twelve years, and supposed him to be dead.—N. Y. World.

A QUEER WEDDING.—The Hartford Post relates a curious incident near that city.—Mrs. Eliza Barnsley, a young war widow, had been courted and won by a young lawyer from Providence, who spent his vacation in the neighborhood. The day for the marriage was fixed and all the arrangements made, but at the appointed hour the bridegroom came not. He had gone from the town in an early train. The bride was disconsolate, the friends outraged. Worse than all, the dinner was getting spoiled by waiting. Seeing this state of affairs, one of the invited guests, a middle aged farmer, who had been a secret admirer of Mrs. Barnsley, and whom she had encouraged before the lawyer's advent, stepped up, offered to take the groom's place, and was accepted. They were married, ate their dinner, and promise to make a happy couple.

General Sheridan is ordered to report at Washington. We can tell him how to make the trip a pleasant one. Let him get off the Virginia and Tennessee Road at Salem and walk alone and unattended to Staunton, and thence to Harper's Ferry. The road is familiar and his friends will be so glad to see him.—Orange Expositor.

There is a youth who, every time he wish es to get a glimpse of his sweet-heart, cries "fire!" directly under her window. In the alarm of the moment she plunges her head out of the window and inquires, "Where!" When he poetically slaps himself on the bosom, and exclaims, "Ere, my Carolina!" We think a bucket of ice-cold water would put out that fire.

Mr. Prentice comes to the defence of the Radical newspapers, which Mr. Greeley stigmatizes as "insectivorous," because they do not agree with him in all things, and tells Mr. Greeley that he has unconsciously written himself down an insect. SECTION 3. And be it further enacted, That the General of the armies of the United States shall be invested with all the powers of suspension, removal, appointment and detail granted in the preceding section to district commanders.

SECTION 4. And be it further enacted, That the acts of the officers of the army already done in removing in said districts persons exercising the functions of civil officers and appointing others in their stead are hereby confirmed; provided that any person heretofore or hereafter appointed by any district commander to exercise the functions of any civil office may be removed, either by the military officer in command of the district or by the General of the army; and it shall be the duty of commanders to remove from office, as aforesaid, all persons who are disloyal to the government of the United States, or who use their official influence in any manner to hinder, delay, prevent or obstruct the due and proper administration of this act, and the acts to which this is supplementary.

SECTION 5. And be it further enacted, That the boards of registration provided for in the act entitled "an act supplementary to an act entitled 'an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States,' passed March 2, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, shall have power, and it shall be their duty, before allowing the registration of any person, to ascertain upon such facts or information as they can obtain, whether such person is entitled to be registered under said act, and the oath required by said act shall not be conclusive on such question, and no person shall be registered unless such board shall decide that he is entitled thereto; and such board shall also have power to examine under oath (to be administered by any member of such board) any one touching the qualification of any person claiming registration. But in every case of a refusal by the board to register an applicant, made in every case hereinafter provided, the board shall make a note or memorandum, which shall be returned with the registration list to the commanding General of the Districts, setting forth the ground of such refusal, or such striking from the list: Provided, that no person shall be disqualified, as a member of any board of registration, by reason of race or color.

SECTION 6. And be it further enacted, That the true intent and meaning of the oath prescribed in said supplementary act is (among other things) that no person who has been a member of the Legislature of any State or who has held any executive or judicial office in any State, whether he has taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States or not, and whether he was holding such office at the commencement of the rebellion or had held it before, and who has afterward engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof, is entitled to be registered or to vote; and the words "executive or judicial office in any State" in said oath mentioned shall be construed to include all civil offices created by law for the administration of the general law of the State, or for the administration of justice.

SECTION 7. And be it further enacted, That the time for completing the original registration provided for in said act may, in the discretion of the commander of any district, be extended to the 1st. day of October, 1867; and the boards of registration shall have power, and it shall be their duty, commencing fourteen days prior to any election under said act, and upon reasonable public notice of the time and place thereof, to revise for a period of three days the registration lists; and upon being satisfied that any person not entitled thereto has been registered, to strike the name of such person from the list. And such board shall also during the same period, add to such registry the names of all persons who at that time possess the qualifications required by said act who have not been already registered, and no person shall at any time be entitled to be registered or to vote by reason of any executive pardon or amnesty for any act or thing which, without such pardon or amnesty, would disqualify him from registration or voting.

SECTION 8. And be it further enacted, That section 4 of the said last-named act shall be construed to authorize the commanding general named therein, whenever he shall deem it needful, to remove any member of a board of registration, and to appoint another person in his stead, and to fill any vacancy in such board.

SECTION 9. That all members of said Boards of Registration and all persons hereafter elected or appointed to office in said military districts, under any so-called State or municipal authority or by detail or appointment of the District Commanders, shall be required to take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by law for officers of the United States.

SECTION 10. That no District Commander or member of the Board of registration or any of the officers or appointees acting under them shall be bound in his action by any opinion of any civil officer of the United States.

SECTION 11. That all the provisions of this act, and the acts to which this is supplementary, shall be construed liberally, to the end that all the intents thereof may be fully and perfectly carried out.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in any election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office." Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

ST. CLEMENT'S HALL,
A FIRST CLASS SCHOOL FOR BOYS,
ELLICOTTS MILLS, MD.,
(NEAR BALTIMORE.)

THIS SCHOOL WAS ESTABLISHED FOR the purpose of enabling SOUTHERN BOYS, at a comparatively moderate cost, to enjoy all the advantages that are afforded in the best and most expensive Northern Schools.
It has been, already, eminently successful. The Hall is a large and beautiful edifice. The Household is under the immediate charge of the Rector and his wife. The pupils are all received as members of the family; strict attention is given to their health, personal habits and to the cultivation of courteous manners, while every care is taken to unite the comforts of a home, with the strict discipline of a School. In these respects, this Institution claims to have no superior in the country.
The Teachers are all gentlemen of fine classical attainments, and the instruction is of the most thorough kind.
Circulars, containing full particulars, with references and list of pupils, will be sent to any address.
